This May, let us walk side by side with A, and embark on a journey that allows us to see the world and ourselves with a different perspective, through the sincerity embedded in b.wing's works.

I am much better today.

If things don't work out, just dry it under the sun."

What we need most is not energising our efforts, but to let ourselves go sometimes.

Letting things go in time is the key to open your heart.

The "Birth" of A

A is a little boy who is forever 7 years old with dark circles under his eyes. Although often alone, he insists on showing his love for the world in his own way, looking for warmth and care around him. It is for this reason that audiences often find A approachable and theraputic. B.wing's childhood gives shape to the prototype of A. B.wing has always been candid and she has been expressing her emotions with a paintbrush since the age of 3. She once tried to draw on a blackboard and was stopped by her teacher. She then asked "Isn't that how a blackboard works?"

In around 2000, b.wing came back from the UK to take care of her mother. After her mother passed away, she was indulging in sadness. She could only pull herself together after learning from friends that all of us, without any exception, experience sadness. She then decided to quit her job and dedicated herself to art. "When I paint with my whole heart, I am free. I enjoyed this state of mind every day." She once painted on a paper towel and accidentally smeared the ink around the eyes of the doll. She then polished the the image and turned it into a boy with dark circles. The boy became A. As b.wing said, "I didn't give him life; he gives birth to himself."

Just like a groundhog

Having "met" A for more than 15 years, b.wing often compares herself to a groundhog, digging deep inside her heart, hoping to find out more about the world and things in her creative journey. "We should spend time exploring the possibilities of things, instead of expecting the outside to provide the inner heart with more or bigger space. As an artist, every brushstroke of b.wing's is a conversation with herself. She's not afraid to explore the unknown, regardless of the result and even if it consumes more time and effort than one can imagine. "I never think that it is waste of time. It depends entirely on how you look at it, and if you think it's a waste, then it really is a waste. I don't want to live in these limits."

The "Fine A"

To a lot of people, b.wing is a well-known illustrator and designer. Who really cares that she has been painting for a long time? She has been crying for her soul and has never stopped pursuing Art in its purest form. Fine A doesn't just represent A, the little boy, it is also a kind of b.wing's attitude towards Fine Art. She walks on the road of art, listens to her inner voice to become a Fine Artist and her paintings are always filled with emotions and her response to this world.

About b.wing

b.wing graduated in 1997 from Middlesex University, a century-old British academic institution that encourages freedom in her artistic creation. A freedom that leads to finding the essence in her works without the limitation of formalities. After her graduation, she returned to Hong Kong and began experimenting with different art forms. She had worked in the fashion and graphic design industry, and has held solo exhibitions in Hong Kong, Beijing, Shanghai, Taiwan and Tokyo. Her timeless style and the innocence character of A have attracted international brands for collaborations such as agnès b., Chanel, Juicy Couture, Kiehl's, Nokia, HTC, Yahoo and LG.

A 仔的「誕生」

A 仔是一個永遠七歲、有著黑眼圈的小男孩,雖然常常獨 自一人,但他堅持以自己的方式表達著對這個世界的愛, 尋覓著身邊的點滴溫情。正因如此,很多人都曾經表示 過,能從 A 仔身上找到一份親切、治癒的感覺。A 仔的原 型源自童年的 b.wing,個性直率的她自 3 歲起便以畫筆傾 吐情緒,她曾經試過在學校的黑板上畫畫,被老師阻止後 反問一句:「黑板不是這樣用的嗎?」

到了 2000 年左右,b.wing 因照顧患病的母親從英國回到 香港。母親離開後,她便沈溺在情緒之中,從好友的身上 得到啟發後,她毅然辭掉工作,不分晝夜地畫畫。一次偶 然地在紙巾上做手繪時,墨水在公仔的眼部化開了,使得 公仔的形像一下變成了一個有著黑眼圈的男孩。b.wing: 「我沒有賦予他生命,而是他順其自然出現了。」

像一隻土撥鼠

與 A 仔「相逢」不知不覺已超過 15 年,b.wing 常常覺得自己的創作歷程就像土撥鼠一樣, 不斷往自己的內心深處挖掘,希望能找出更豐富的事物和世界:「我們應該花時間去探尋事 物本身的可能性,而不是一味地奢求外在給予它(內心)更大更廣的空間。」作為一名創作 者,b.wing 的每一筆色彩都是一次與自己的隔空對話。她不畏懼探索未知,即使可能會失 敗,又或許會花費超乎想像的時間與精力,「我從不覺得做這些探索是浪費時間,這完全取 決於你怎麼看待,你要是認為這是浪費,那就真的是浪費了。我不想活在這些條條框框的限 制裡。」

Fine A

許多人眼中 b.wing 是一名知名的插畫家、設計師,誰又在意她一直在畫人生五味雜陳,一 直在為自己的靈魂吶喊,一直沒停止過對純粹藝術的追求。Fine A 不單單代表了 A 仔,更 是一種 b.wing 對 Fine Art 的態度,她在藝術之路上從未停下腳步,聆聽內心的回響,紙上 滿載著心靈的感悟。
